DOROTHY DIX

Faint Heart Ne'er Won Fair Lady

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am 17 years old but I could pass for 19 or 20. I am a medical student at the State University and at night work as an orderly in the County Infirmary. I am very much in love with a girl who loves me as much as I love her. She is pretty, sensible and understanding. I believe she would make an ideal doctor's wife. We want to get married next June. We are not blind to the hardships of marriage. If you know how hard a young doctor's life is you will know it is harder than that of an ordinary young man. We both fully understand what is to be expected, but God being with us, we are ready to face the disappointments as well as the joys.

I plan to have $1,000 saved by May. I have some in the bank now and can save almost all of my paycheck because I get my room and laundry at the hospital. I make $150 a month. Are we too young to marry? My girl's mother won't give us her consent and we don't want to elope. Her mother married when she was young so she got a divorce from her first husband. My girl's father, she married a second time.

happily, but I know she won't approve of our marriage because one day someone asked her if her daughter and I were married. She came storming home, and started firing questions at her daughter as if she had committed the unpardonable sin.

If you suggest that when we are ready to marry I sit down and have a serious talk with the mother, I explain how it is, as I am doing to you. I will. But if there is some other way, please tell me. But what if I do talk to the mother and she refuses to listen to reason? How can I make her see that our marriage will work out where hers didn't? Thank you in advance for any help, and may God bless you. - Worried Boy.

Dear Worried Boy: You have the right instinct. The girl who gets you is lucky. The well-expressed quality of your letter reveals your character. Once you see your girl's mother, but don't open an interview with "Shall I" or "Shall I not marry your daughter?" Say instead, "I am going to marry her," and say it with conviction. Be positive. Certainly you want the mother to be satisfied, but don't take the position of letting her decide for you. The more forthright and manly you are, the more likely you are to win the mother over to your way of thinking.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been going with a girl for some time and found out recently that she is a couple of years older than I. I like her a lot, but I believe she likes me but the difference in ages sounds kind of silly. Should it matter? - Concerned.

Dear Concerned: If you weren't concerned until you discovered that she was older than you, why should it matter now?

In general, marriages are happier where the man is older than the woman, or at least the same age. However, there are happy exceptions to every rule. It all depends on the two most concerned - you and the girl. What does she think about the difference in your ages? Ask her!

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband thinks that any display of emotion is weakness. This has made our marriage difficult. For example, if I cry when I am upset, he gets very angry and walks out of the house, or won't speak to me for hours. I've tried to explain to him that by crying when I'm upset is the same as when he gets angry and swears. It's just releasing pent-up feelings. But he can't understand this.

I am very much an extrovert. I give wholly and completely of myself to anything I believe in. My husband is the opposite. He doesn't get along very well with many of the young people of our own age. He doesn't make friends too easily. I am friendly, perhaps too much so. At least my husband thinks so.

He is very ambitious and wants a lot out of life. I think this ambition is good but not when he makes it his whole life with no

Four Proposals Before the ALC
JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Four proposals were before the Arkansas Legislative Council at its regular monthly meeting here today.

The Council was asked to check on activities of the State Board of Cosmetology, and investigate financing of the State Police to see if salaries of troopers are too low.

Sen. Guy Jones of Conway advanced both proposals to the Council which convened at Arkansas State College.

Also to be studied was a possibility of giving persons over 65 years of age a property tax exemption on their homesteads, suggested by Rep. N. B. Murphy of Ashley County, and a suggestion that the council study driver education programs of various states to determine methods of promoting highway safety in Arkansas through driver education. Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley advanced the latter proposal.

to serve as reporter Mrs. Avis Camp voiced the closing prayer. Then, a social hour followed with cake, nuts and coffee being served to the 29 present.

Fire Damages Part of Radio Station

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Fire destroyed a small auxiliary building of Radio Station KLDK near here today, knocking the station off the air temporarily as some power equipment went up in the flames.

A station official estimated loss at between $7,000 and 10,000. Origin of the fire was not determined.

Singing Group Is Freed of Morals Charge

CINCINNATI, O. (AP)—Freed of morals charges here Thursday, the Platters, Negro singing group, headed for an engagement in West Germany.

They said they would open in Berlin Monday.

Although Municipal Judge Gilbert Bateman acquitted the four singers of charges of aiding and abetting prostitution, lewdness or obscenity, he lashed at them for having "broken that law which distinguishes man from animal—the moral law."

Accused with the men were four 19-year-old girls—three white and one Negro.

The eight were arrested in a hotel here last Aug. 10. Police said all either were nude or were scantily clad.

The men, night club and recording singers, are Ervin Robi, 26, of El Centro, Calif.; Samuel Williams, 21, of Hollywood, Calif.; and David Lynch Jr., 30, and Herbert A. Reed, 31, both of Los Angeles. The girls are Janie Davis, Patsy Sue Howard and Virginia Lee Jones, all of Hamilton, Ohio, and Helen Harrison of Cincinnati.

Judge Bateman based his acquittal decision on a finding there was no evidence the men paid the girls any money, and on his opinion as to the definitions and legislative intent in the use of the words "lewdness" and "indiscernment" in the Ohio law.

News Briefs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs today laughed off an anonymous telephone call that his garage was to be bombed.

He said he was convinced the woman caller was a crank and added: "I don't even have a garage, only a carport."

The call was received at the sheriff's office last night. Investigators found nothing.

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP)—Capt. Joe Killinger, 31, today made his second flight.

Says Herter Didn't Clarify Situation

IRVING, IAP. — Rev. John A. Herter, U.S. Secretary of State, said today that he had not clarified the situation in Cuba, but he had clarified the situation in the United States. Herter said that he had not clarified the situation in Cuba, but he had clarified the situation in the United States. Herter said that he had not clarified the situation in Cuba, but he had clarified the situation in the United States.

Saenger Coming Soon

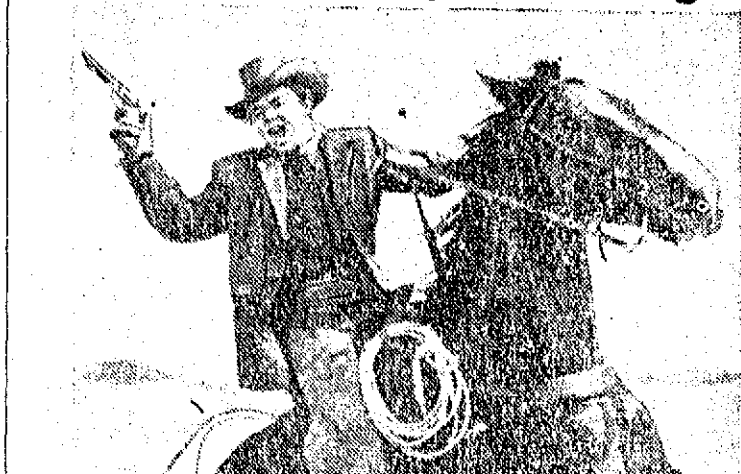

STEVE REEVES PLAYS the title role in "Hercules" coming soon to the Saenger.

CAROL MORRIS, MISS UNIVERSE of 1957, stars in "Born To Be Loved" with Hugo Haas and Dick Kallman.

Sunday - Monday at Saenger

AUDIE MURPHY AND TERRY MOORE STAR IN "A Long Shadow" coming to the Saenger's giant screen Sunday and Monday. It's the roughest and toughest vengeance trail a man ever rode... the cold fury in his holster — the boiling hate in his blood — they all cast a long shadow across the face of the west.

Late Show Saturday: Also Tues. - Wed. - Thurs. Feature

GARY CROSBY, CAROL LINLEY, JANE WYMAN, CLIFTON WEBB, JILL ST. JOHN, and Paul Hengreid star in "Holiday for Lovers", coming to the Saenger Late Show Saturday at 11 p. m. and also Tuesday thru Thursday. It's strictly... South America — Take It Away!

but he clarified nothing about war criminals in the United States, nor about U.S. interference in the question of the British government supplying airplanes for our defenses, nor about repeated bombardments of our territory by airplanes that based in the United States.

Revolution referred to Cuban counter-revolutionists in the United States, British refusal to supply U.S. jets planes to Cuba in exchange for 15 motor-driven planes furnished by Britain some years ago, and to leaflet bombardments ever Havana by planes based in Florida.

The paper also said Herter "referred to Cuba in a complacent tone that represents the North American mentality, forgetting completely the true history of relations between Cuba and the United States."

It is estimated that if all the paved airport runways in Florida were laid end to end they would form a roadway 30 feet wide from Miami to Slicka, Alaska.

Hope Splits a Pair of Games at Lewisville

By TEDDY JONES
Hope Star Sports Editor

Hope High School's senior boys and girls basketball teams split a doubleheader at Lewisville last night.

The Senior Bobcats posted a four point, 26 to 22 win, in the boys game while the Lady Cats dropped their game in the senior girls event by a ten point, 36 to 26, margin.

In the St. boys game Parker of Lewisville was high scorer with 12 points.

Terry Don Thurman was high scorer for the Bobcats totaling ten points on four field goals and two free throws. Smiley was six.

Hope jumped to an early 8 to 4 lead at the end of the first quarter, trailed 14 to 12 at the half, regained the lead 20 to 17 by the end of the third quarter and held on to a four point margin at games end.

Last night's win made it two straight over the Red Devils who were downed by the Bobcats in an earlier game last week 41 to 29.

The Lewisville girls, on the other hand, evened things up with the Lady Cats who had won last week's game 37 to 33.

Hope led at the quarter 8 to 6; trailed 17 to 15 at the half; fell behind in the third quarter 23 to 17; and ended up on the short end by ten points 36 to 26.

Redmen of Lewisville led scorers with 18 points followed by her teammate May who scored 15.

Leading the Hope attack was Juanita Messer with 12 points. Brenda Mitchell racked up 10 for the Lady Cats with England scoring 4.

Next week the Bobcats of Coach Sevier are entered in the El Dorado Invitational Tournament scheduled for December 15 to 18.

The Lady Cats are idle until after the Christmas holidays according to the official schedule.

Audit Group to Review Cases

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Five audits were up for review by the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee at the panel's final session of the year today.

They are of Southern State College, the state Boiler Inspection Board, Liquefied Petroleum Gas Board, Commission on Alcoholism and Municipal Aid Fund.

State Sen. Fred Stafford of Marked Tree heads the committee.

Drive Underway for Stadium Bond Change

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A campaign to get holders of a 2 percent War Memorial Stadium bonds gets underway here today.

Members of the Stadium Commission and representatives of several large bondholders meet to discuss the proposal.

Stadium revenues have never been sufficient to meet payments on the $1,750,000 bond issue as planned when the stadium was built in the 1940s.

The Legislature has waived interest payments on $500,000 worth of bonds the state bought, and some other holders have done the same.

The 1959 Legislature passed a law authorizing the proposed bond exchange if a majority of holders agree.

Field & Stream

Swing Is to Lighter Guns
By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor, Field & Stream

Classically, the American shotgun—which would give the Englishman or the European shooter—is the biggest and the most powerful he can buy, a 12-gauge.

Whether or not he can carry it comfortably has never seemed very important.

But perhaps it will so become. More and more astute gunners in this country are realizing that to walk many miles. More and more, they are coming to see that a light, fast-handling gun, say a 20-bore, gets up and on and kills its bird so much faster than the cumbersome 12 that the extra weight and length of the larger bore serves little purpose in upland gunning.

Wingshooting gets back to what it originally was, an art rather than an exercise in antiaircraft artillery.

Not only have the unmarked signs of this trend by redesigning their 20-bore products for greater handling speed, but they have also turned to lighter metals, even synthetics like nylon and fiberglass to lessen the weight. As a complement, ammunition plants have taken advantage of modern high-density powders and compact wad columns to increase the potency of the 10-bore. Even a standard length 20-gauge shell can now be loaded with 1 ounce of shot, once the normal 12-bore load, and the 3-inch variety 1 3/16 ounces, or in the instance of the Federal loads, a full 1 1/2 ounces of pellets.

The 20 isn't what it was, in either guns available to buy or shells to shoot—it has grown up with a vengeance.

OO THE HOSTAGE
BY CHARLES HENRY

THE STORY: Police have been called to find the missing boy, Davey, son of Bill and Carol Cleaves. Miss Mabry, who lives upstairs, has told an imaginative story that Davey went off with a tramp who was seen in the park across the street.

CAPTAIN XII
Sergeant Mercer considered this for a moment in silence. Miss Mabry watched with veiled wariness until he spoke again.

"You saw a child—some child that might have been Davey Cleaves?"

Miss Mabry hesitated, reminding herself that she was dealing with the police now and not a flighty young matron in a state of senseless hysteria. "It could have been Davey."

"You saw them walking together and then the next time you looked out—a few minutes later—they were both gone."

"I—yes. That's right."

Again the sergeant paused. "Don't misunderstand, Miss Mabry. I'm not asking you to indulge in idle gossip about your neighbors. But—well, first, how long have you known Mrs. Cleaves?"

"Seven years. That is to say they moved here into the building about seven years ago. I don't claim an intimate acquaintance with her."

"But you do have a close friendship with the child?"

"Davey seemed attracted to me. He seemed to need sympathy. He found great delight in our little friendship."

"He doesn't receive sympathetic attention at home?"

Miss Mabry retired into a cloak of flustered but belated reticence. "How can I presume to judge the emotional richness or poverty of a home of which I am not a member?" she demurred.

"Yes, of course. But can you think of anyone the child might go to if he ran away? Did he ever mention anyone he was particularly fond of?"

Miss Mabry reflected, then sadly shook her head. "I would hope he would come to me," she said softly.

The sergeant looked down at his hands. "Do you think Mrs. Cleaves is the type of woman inclined to dramatics—to jump to conclusions?"

A hundred vitriolic phrases leaped to Miss Mabry's lips, but she contained them in a tight silence. "I can't say really. I'm simply not that well acquainted with her."

"I see. Now—would you give me as complete a description as you can of the man?"

Miss Mabry unfolded her hands, then immediately refolded them into a new attitude of composed prettiness. As nearly as she could, she described the man in the park, eliminating, however, the colorful details she had supplied for Carol's benefit. "He wasn't the sort of person you expect to find in this kind of neighborhood," she concluded.

"Mrs. Cleaves mentioned that you received a particularly strong impression of the man—of something sinister, abnormal."

Farm Families of Year to Be Picked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas landowner and tenant "Farm Families of the Year" will be selected today from among nine families who won district championships.

A team of judges visited contestants this week. In the competition sponsored by the Arkansas Press Assn. and Arkansas Power & Light Co.

The district winners were chosen from 68 entrants. Winners selected for outstanding farming practices, homemaking efforts and overall contributions to their communities and counties.

The state champion landowner and tenant families will compete in the Mid-South Plant to Prosper Contest sponsored by the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

WINTER IS TIME TO FIND BOAT BARGAIN
By WM. T. McKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating
(Distributed by NEA Service)

Traditional boat bargain time is here.

Across the country prospective boat buyers are roaming through backyards and backyards looking at pleasure craft hauled out for the winter.

This time of year the man who might be tired of his boat is supposed to be ready to sell it for less. New boat dealers' prices may be lower.

True bargains are not easy to find. Sometimes an owner of a damaged boat will want to sell cheaply rather than repair it.

Occasionally a sailor will see new model, make a deposit, and be anxious to unload his old boat in a hurry. But there are pitfalls for the buyer.

Here are hints for boatyard shopping:

Is the boat sound? If you are thinking of investing in an expensive boat, safeguard your money by hiring a marine surveyor to examine your selection thoroughly. He will search and probe for traces of dry rot, broken ribs, and fittings and weakness that will need repair.

Will the boat be comfortable? Here is your chance to climb aboard and really find out. The tiny cabin that may look cute to a sailor's eye may turn out to be a cramped space when you try to get inside. And is there room in the cockpit for the family and friends?

How much equipment is included with the purchase? A sailboat with worn out rigging and sails may no longer be a bargain. A power boat that is going to need anchors, fire extinguishers, life preservers, fenders, horn, and boat hook should be priced lower than the craft that includes these.

When a boat is out of the water, you can give hull and topsides a careful examination.

The boatman with a sound and sturdy craft is less likely to want to sell his boat at a loss just to save the trouble of winter storage.

Those Gifts Really Hurt This Jockey

CROWLEY, La. (AP)—Alden Sonnier, a Cajun-French radio disc jockey in Evangeline Land, always thought a gift from a listener was just a little something extra.

Then came a radio-TV. That's when, Sonnier said, his conscience began to hurt. So he wrote to the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

"I understand," he wrote, "you are checking up on so-called payola to persons engaged in playing music on the radio. I wish to report that for the past several years I have been conducting a Cajun-French radio program on this station and that during these years I have received for playing one record, one dozen home-grown grapefruit from Alex Broussard of Dison, La., for playing his recording of 'Le Sud de la Louisiane'."

"However, over the years, I have received quite a few things from listeners in appreciation for playing their favorite kinds of music. These include, as best as I can remember:

"About 25 yards of boudin (a highly seasoned rice sausage); about 35 yards of smoked sausage; seven or eight muscovy ducks, some dressed, some live; one pork shoulder roast; one pumpkin to make a Jack-O-Lantern for my kids (no papers or candles in it); several watermelons; a pair of open-kettle cane syrup; three messes of sweet potatoes; a half-sack of peanuts. Fresh dug; a live guinea hen; one dish of hoghead; cheese; a pound of hog cracklings; a paper sack of kumquats; a wild goose, dressed; innumerable cups of coffee bought for me by people who recognize me on the street; eight pounds of breaded shrimp; a bottle of homemade orange wine; a mess of turnips; about a dozen jars of preserves."

Sonnier, long a staff announcer for radio station KSLG, told friends today with a straight face: "Now I have to off my conscience."

He said he would not be able to find the kid who gave him the gifts.

Obituary Notice
Funeral services for Bonnie Allen of Washington will be held today (Saturday) at 3 p.m. at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church. Burial will be in Mt. Moriah Cemetery with the Hicks Funeral Home Inc. in charge.

Mrs. Lizzie Featherston died at her home in Lewisville, Thursday Dec. 10. Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Hicks Funeral Home Inc.

There will be a candlelight pageant at Garrett Chapel Baptist Church Sunday, Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. sponsored by the Missionary Society. Mrs. Georgia Ruth Hicks, president; Rev. F. R. Williams, pastor.

The final agreement was reached by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Vasily V. Kuznetsov, Soviet deputy foreign minister, after several weeks of private negotiations.

The plan will be laid before the U.N. Political Committee for the quick action before the General Assembly ends its 1959 session Saturday.

The proposal would create a 24-nation committee to study outer space cooperation and coordinate its exploration for peaceful purposes.

The agreement broke a deadlock which began last year when the U.N. set up a temporary committee of 18 nations. This was boycotted by the Soviet Union because of its composition.

The proposed body would give China a larger representation. It would consist of 12 Western nations, 7 Communist and 5 neutral. Kuznetsov confirmed agreement had been reached. He said a resolution, sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and other countries, would be submitted later today.

Department Store Sales Dip Some
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Department store sales in the Little Rock area decreased 1 per cent last week from the corresponding week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported today.

No change was reported in Memphis area sales. In the St. Louis Reserve District, a whole sales dropped an estimated 2 per cent.

POWER that sustains
may be found thru regular church attendance

HIM

... the time of year when spirits are gay and when voices blend in adoration for an event nearly 2000 years old ... the birthday of our Lord. The warmth of Christmas

Carols rolling out over hill and dale quickens the spirits of men as no other season of singing does. Then sing your Carols. Give out with your Noels. Of course it is Hallelujah time, but on His Natal Day may we celebrate with joyful reverence.

We may sing our Carols, but may we also be serious in our jubilation.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
